Land reform in the Kikuyu country.

Author(s) : SORRENSON, M. P. K.

Book : Land reform in the Kikuyu country. 1967 pp.266 pp.

Abstract : This study of why and how land consolidation and registration in Kikuyuland (i.e. in the light of relevant legislation) is largely an examination of policy as revealed primarily in official records. Kikuyu land problems and attempts to solve them are discussed in the general context of Kenya history, which involves economic, social and political developments up to the Kenya Emergency. Before the subsequent land consolidation and registration programme had important purposes and objectives which often conflicted with legal and agricultural objectives, some of the Emergency are examined. Future consolidation and registration will probably be gradual and less subject to political pressure. p. H.
