Abstract

An analysis of queer representation and allusions in superhero subject for debate in the both the queer and feminist fields. The scholars have focused on the storyline of superheroes who have the LGBTQA+ community in comics and in media. However, the presumed heterosexual character's introduction into the comic can be seen as a direct retelling of a queer "coming out" experience. Supergirl (2015). I will discuss Kara Zor-El Danvers' "coming out" as well as how she interacts in society as an alien in a human domain. I will reveal how this can be seen as a direct parallel of a queer narrative. I will discuss how Supergirl portrays a canon homosexual relationship with Lena Luthor through canon that alludes to a veiled homosexual relationship. I will apply The Gay Archipelago, to address Supergirl's narrative as queer. As a novel Unbearable Weight, to describe Supergirl not only as a figure that society views her as an 'other' figure that confirms her queerness. I will be closely examining how Kara is portrayed in the show, both as a character and her interactions with other characters, we can conclude that Kara Zor-El in Supergirl is a queer depiction of the superhero narrative.
