An introduction to copepod diversity.

Author(s) : Boxshall, G. A. ; Halsey, S. H.

Author Affiliation : Natural History Museum, London, UK.

Book : An introduction to copepod diversity 2004 pp.xv + vii + 966 pp. ref.75 pp.

Abstract : This two-volume work provides an illustrated family-level overview of the diversity of the whole of the Copepoda, with the aim of facilitating the identification of new and existing species. For each family it gives a diagnosis (the typical characters and an indication of variation), a list of genera, notes on important taxonomic changes to the genera (often adapted from other sources) and introductory notes on the family. The introduction also lists families by habitat or (in the case of symbiotic or parasitic forms) with keys to aid identification.
