Abstract This important and first-of-its-kind collection addresses the emerging challenges in the field of media art practice for professionals in this field. Since the emergence of time-based media such as film, video and digital technologies resulting artworks, with their basis in rapidly developing technologies that cross over into other domains such as infrastructures for the collection, preservation and exhibition of art. Addressing these challenges, the authors address the challenges and difficulties of preserving and exhibiting media art through a series of first-hand experiences and film and media theory, it also makes a strong contribution to the growing literature on archive theory and
