Introduction by the Managing Editor: John Mansford Prior SVD wrote an essay for the Asian Convention of the Po planned for Jogjakarta, Indonesia, in June 12-17, 2006. The essay starts with a survey of the Pentecostal and chari countries. Subsequently Prior reviews a growing awareness of 'sects and new religious movements' in church docu social science understands the 'rise of the sects' before he takes up the pastoral challenge to link the dynamism of movements with the social conscience of basic ecclesial communities. The editing board of Exchange was impress considered it to be of great importance to the readership of the journal. However, the essay was too long to be pul decided to divide it into parts. The first part gives the overview of Pentecostal and charismatic movements in Asia the reaction of the Asian mainline churches, in particular the Roman Catholic Church. Part two will be published in
